triconetes Group opens new location in Augsburg

(Munich, 23.11.2017)

Following the successful takeover by the new owners and industry experts Klaus Gumpp, Dirk Scholand and Christoph Thiem, as well as the subsequent restructuring of the Munich establishment in September 2016, the triconetes Group opened on 16.10. another location in Augsburg.

This step follows the previous expansion of existing customer relationships and the acquisition of numerous new customers who are convinced of the performance of the triconetes Group.

After a comprehensive evaluation of the location, the decision quickly fell to the Fugger city of Augsburg. A decidedly positive labor market with highly educated people, an excellent infrastructure in the transport connection as well as the building and last but not least the geographical proximity to the location Munich are the cornerstones of this decision say the managing directors Klaus Gumpp, Dirk Scholand and Christoph Thiem.

The new location has a capacity of an additional 170 operational workplaces and thus extends the triconetes Group's production operations to more than 350 workplaces.
